Fr. Hillmer and family were here this week from Runge on a visit. He reports all well with our old Shiner people, Julius Brieger, Aug. Hioze and Henry Hillmer, who are now all living at Runge.

Frank Koester and wife and sons, Frank and Charles, Willie Aschenbeck of Colorado county, Fritz Luck and lady, Charles and Miss Eliza Locke of Moulton, were here last Thursday and Friday visiting Henry Neimeyer and lady, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Neimeyer.

"White Swan" Flour at Wolters Bros.

The Edgar Holly murder case which was called at Gonzales last week was continued until next term of court.

Mrs. E. Clark and children of Schulenburg, were here last week visiting E. F. Wolters and family.

The Misses Homan of Luling, are the guests of Mrs. O. H. Deutsch.

We call attention to the advertisement of C. Amsler, the new druggist.

Don't take it amiss if you miss a paper once or twice a year, such mistakes can't be helped and we always have an extra copy for you.

Jim Barber was sentenced at Gonzales last week to hang. He murdered his wife a few months ago. He is a negro and not having money enough to hire a lawyer one was appointed by the court. This explains his speedy conviction. If he had had a thousand dollars with which to engage a prominent criminal lawyer, he could easily have secured a number of continuances, a change of venue or two, a few mistrials and would probably have escaped punishment altogether, but as it was he wasn't worth fighting for.

A COUNTRY DRIVE.

The writer in company with L. B. Richter took a drive out through the country towards Charlottensburg Thursday. The country looks to be extremely dry and a dusty haze hung over the landscape on all sides. We drove by Henry Dreyer's, sr., home but did not stop. He has a magnificent farm provided with every convenience. Cotton pickers were out in nearly every field along the road. Near Charlottensburg we turned to the left and passed through the Laas farm to the residence of Wm. Wehman. Mr. Wehman was not at home, having not returned from the Yoakum celebration. While driving through the yard the writer could not help admiring Mr. Wehman's fine vineyard, water works system, and the hundreds of chickens, turkeys, pea fowls, etc., which swarmed on all sides, while a half dozen pens were filled with fine hogs of a superior breed. The cattle, horses and everything about the place looked fat and sleek. We were sorry that Mr. Wehman was absent but hope to find him at home the next time we call. Continuing our drive we passed out at a lower gate and entered the Shiner road which passes by the Othold, Mueller and Nolcamper farms. A slight shower of rain fell from Bunyes school house to Shiner but did not extend over much territory.

FIRM CHANGED.

The formal change in the firm of Seydler & Eschenburg was made Thursday and the firm name now reads Eschenburg & Blohm.

Valentine Mladenka of Schulenburg, is here this week visiting his sons, August and John.

Gus Newman is working on the Schulenburg Stecker.

Fritz Tischen returned Sunday and P. Stuerke Monday from Sour Lake. Both seem to be much improved.

Frank, Will and Bob Culpepper have returned from their prospecting tour.

"That man truthful, of course he is, he's just full of it, has more truth in him than any other man in town. How do I know? Why, because he has never made use of his stock of truth; it has never been opened." We heard the above good one gotten off by a Shiner man on the streets the other day.

As soon as the cotton season opens swarms of negro prostitutes and gamblers will endeavor to make Shiner their headquarters. They should be headed off at the start and made to understand that Shiner is a bad place for such. They can easily be kept out if the proper means are taken.
